Custom-fit Scientific Copy Editing, Content Review, and Publishing Services

My Services

- Research and creation of science publications

I compose a high-quality science document based on your input.

- Copy editing, scientific content review and author support

I verify the content and consistency of your documents, and I check their structure and grammar. From the first idea until the final release, I assist you with your piece in all modern publication formats.

- Publishing services

E.g., developing new topics and concepts for reference works, author acquisition and support, market research, metadata extraction for science publishers.

All services, covering the full range from specialist books to popular science publications, are available in English as well as in the German language, including translations.

Why me?

- Excellent scientist (theoretical physics)
- Extensive interdisciplinary knowledge, broad educational background
- Fine linguistic skills (German, English, French)
- With the utmost eye for details, or efficient under time pressure
- Profound knowledge of the industry (long-standing experience as publisher and editor at Springer Science+Business Media)
- Flexible integration of my services into your publication workflow
- One-stop service for all publication-related tasks

Remuneration: by arrangement

If you are interested, please arrange a complimentary appointment with me.
